This is a letter of recommendation for Saxton Bradley and Roger Diehl, Director of Technology Projects. I have had the opportunity to work with Saxton Bradley for the past four years. Service is at the core of everything this company does. From demonstrations of products, expert installations, on-site training of staff (not just a single session mind you), train-the-trainer opportunities, to servicing products after the sale, Saxton Bradley is top notch. For those of you who are familiar with the Nordstrom quality of service you will be equally spoiled in dealing with Saxton Bradley.

Saxton Bradley has done numerous large projects for the Tacoma School District. They provided all of the classroom multimedia solutions for Helen Stafford Elementary, Fern Hill Elementary, and Lincoln High School, as well many additional installations at individual schools. A single installation is treated with the same level of service and training as a whole school project.

I recommend Saxton Bradley's installations, sales, and service without reservation.

Feel free to contact me with any questions.
